On 19/06/2025 Dr. Pritha Kundu, Assistant Professor, Department of English, Hiralal Mazumdar Memorial College for Women, delivered a special lecture for the English Major and Minor students of Netaji Satabarshiki Mahavidyalaya, Ashoknagar, North 24 pgs. titled "Music of Nature: Eco-Aesthetics in Romantic Poetry" It was an engaging session where the rhythm of songs cadence of literature came together. The session was interactive and students of both Music and English department equally took part in the discussion. Ranging from Keats and Coleridge to the modern day Bob Dylan and Salil Chowdhury, the session intermingled the grammar of songs along with Romantic theory in a way which did not seem incomprehensible to students despite the depth of the discussion. Dr. Kundu's deliberations were extremely motivating and thought-provoking for both the students and the faculty members present. Around 40 students attended the lecture.
